It’s my pleasure to lead the delegation of community and regional leaders on this year’s Intercity Visit. I believe Seattle will be a city of benchmarks that will aid us in measuring progress in our region. I’m very happy you will be with us.

We hope these Intercity Visits will become one of the most meaningful Chamber experiences. We have more than 90 public and private sector leaders participating, a new record. It’s exciting to visit a city known for its continuing successes and challenges, and one to which Austin is frequently compared. We expect to learn from Seattle’s experiences.

An Intercity Visit is aimed at helping us discover how other cities face community challenges and issues that may be similar to our own. Another very important outcome is the strengthening and building of relationships between our own business and community leaders.

Our three-day, two-night visit to Seattle will be intense, but it will address many of the universal challenges faced by all growing cities. We’ll spend time studying Seattle’s transit system with a focus on commuter rail. We’ll also learn about the neighborhood planning process, how Seattle built its central library and how it funds a vibrant arts community. We’ll learn about the Education Alliance and the business link to education. Also on the agenda is a discussion about Seattle’s downtown initiatives and Community Policing and Race Relations Initiatives. Further, in a break-out sessions, we’ll gain insights through discussions with Seattle experts.

We appreciate your committing resources to this important experience and trust your return will more than equal the investment. Thanks for all you do for our community and region.

Sincerely,

Kirk Watson
2005 Chairman, Board of Directors
Watson, Bishop, London & Brophy
Delegates are asked to participate in ALL the sessions. The schedule is tight, and it is imperative that delegates be on time to board buses or congregate to walk to visit sites. We will adhere closely to our schedule and appreciate your help in doing so.

Recommended dress for the visit: Business casual dress is recommended for the entire visit (sports coats for men, skirts or slacks for women). On Sunday, the delegation will be going directly to the afternoon sessions. Any carry-on luggage will need to be taken to this session.

The delegation will be walking to many sites. It is recommended that you bring comfortable walking shoes. Umbrellas are provided in each room by the Hotel Monaco for use during the visit. Individuals will incur a $20 charge if the umbrella is not left in the room. The average temperature in October is 60 degrees (high) and 46 degrees (low).

Upon arrival luggage checked for the trip will be taken directly from the airplane to your hotel room. You will be notified if these plans change. Likewise, on the day of departure, luggage to be checked on the return flight will need to be brought down that morning, and carry-on luggage will stay with you throughout the day.
